NC AAG-DEQ vs. WLCCC Case Update

As has been previously reported by the Committee, the North Carolina Attorney General filed a motion in Moore County Superior Court against WLCCC seeking to enforce the outstanding Dam Safety Order issued by the Department of Environmental Quality. In response to this motion, the Restore Woodlake Committee's attorney, Bill Clemons, filed a motion to intervene on behalf of the Woodlake POA. Both of these motions are scheduled to be heard tomorrow morning at 10am in the Carthage Courthouse. Initial Court documents showed that WLCCC was not represented by an attorney. On March 6th, it became apparent that WLCCC did hire an attorney, Brian Darer, from Parker Poe based in Raleigh. View his profile at the link below. Although irrelevant to the current court case, we do find it interesting that Brian specializes in bankruptcy.

We have been recently informed by our attorney that the AG's office is working to finalize language for a potential agreement between the AG and WLCCC on this matter. It is our understanding that any agreement between the AG and WLCCC will be along the lines of the requirements and timing contained in the State's Complaint. If this agreement were to be finalized prior to the court date, then the AG attorney will inform the court that a Consent Judgment has been reached and a Consent Judgment and Order will be ready for the Judge's review and signature. This would happen before the hearing on our Motion to Intervene and our motion would not be heard. If an agreement is not reached, then our motion, as well as the AG's, will be heard as planned tomorrow. Although there is nothing definitive in what we are reporting in this newsletter, we felt we should keep the community informed on recent developments.

As previously stated, under the advice of the Committee's attorney, the Committee is requesting that property owners and residents not attend the hearing. For additional clarification, visit the link below.

Key POA Board and Committee members will be attending and will report back as soon as possible. Stay tuned.
